Hello, Jesus ever present in the Blessed Sacrament. I love You, adore You, and praise You. Thank You that You wait so lovingly for us to visit with You, sweet Jesus. You are my Lord, my God, and my all. Thank You, Jesus for granting us safe travels, Lord and for protecting our home while we were away. Bless those who could not be on retreat and were unable to meet with us. Thank You, Lord for the graces You poured out on us during our retreat. You are so very good to us, Lord. I love You. Thank You for Your mercy, Jesus!

“My daughter, I am pleased to see you and your husband. Your God is grateful for your visits and for each and every prayer prayed for your brothers and sisters. I await all of My children’s visits to adore Me in the Holy Eucharist. Would that more of My children visited Me.”

Jesus, I sense that you are very solemn. Are you, Jesus? Are you sad, My Lord and Savior?

“Yes, My child. It is as you say. I am sad on this holy of days, for many, many of My children preferred sleeping in very late, over attending Holy Mass. My children chose their late nights of socializing and entertainment, followed by a day of laziness or leisure to what I have asked, that this day be honored as the day of the Lord. I desire this day of the week to be a day of prayer, worship and a day of rest. Instead, after a late night of carousing and lewd conduct, My poor children nurse hangovers, sleeping late, and arise to watch their favorite sporting channel on television or attend their favorite sport. This, My child causes great sadness in Your Jesus’ Sacred Heart for My children follow a pagan life style rather than following Me. Paganism leads one on the path to eternal death, whereas following Me, the Christ, leads one on a path to eternal life. My little lamb if you only knew the number of souls who have stopped going to church on Sunday, and the number who have never gone to church, you would be appalled. This number of souls is too numerous for you to comprehend, My little child. Far fewer are the souls who faithfully attend Mass or church services. Even fewer are the souls who truly follow My law of the Sabbath which is now observed on Sunday. My child, the Commandments of My Father hold just as much importance now as they did when the Father gave them to Moses for all His people. These are “rules” to live by, My little one. To know of them, and to disregard them is to choose death. My children, I beg you, I plead with you to choose life, given to you as a precious gift from God the Father, the Creator. Do not choose death. You were created for life, so choose life. Choose Me! I love you, My children. Come be part of the family of God. Be children of light. Do not be children of darkness and death. Be My sweet, children of light and life and have peace. The peace you seek can only be fulfilled by following Me. For the world cannot give you peace. Peace comes from the very heart of God and therefore can only be given by God. My foolish children whom I love very dearly, you are destroying yourselves and your families by your continual bad choices. Turn away from these temptations that jeopardize your souls and choose Me, Your Jesus. Do not think that by choosing Me, your life will become dull and boring for that is a lie of My adversary and yours. Following Me, is an adventure of a lifetime. Come, My children. Try this life of holiness and peace which brings great and lasting joy. Come now; What do you have to lose?”

Thank You, Jesus that you continue to invite us to share in Your life and in Your love. You are most merciful, Jesus. I love You.

“And I love you, My daughter. I walk with each child created by the Father and I await an opening to penetrate their soul with My Holy Spirit. I love all of My children.”

Thank You, Jesus. Lord, have you anything else to say to me?

“Yes, My child. The time that I have told you about is nearing and is approaching soon. Children, you must change while there is still some time, for if you do not, it will be too late.”

Jesus, You have said ‘soon’ in many other messages. Is this soon in Your time or ‘soon’ in our time (our frame of reference)?

“This is soon in My time and in yours, My child. There is no time left to waste. Your Jesus has spoken to you on several occasions regarding the evil that abounds; have I not?”

Yes, Lord. You have.

“My daughter, souls must repent and return to Me, their Savior before it is too late, for conversion is critical during this time in history. That is why My Father has been sending My Mother to the world like no other time in the history of the world. Still, very small are the numbers of My children who listen to and heed Her words. Come children, and repent while there is still time. The day is growing shorter and darkness is all around you. Come, while there is still some light.”

Yes, Jesus. Thank You. Lord, I am very tired from the events and work of last week. We never seem to get caught up on sleep these days, Jesus. I feel this is just going to be the way it is for the time being. I offer this fatigue to You, Lord and ask that You use it as You will. Thank You, Lord that You bring purpose and meaning to the small crosses in our lives. Thank You for the opportunity to suffer, Lord.

“I accept your offering, My little one. I, Your Jesus am grateful when you offer your crosses to Me. There would not be so many crosses if more of My children would accept their own. Many graces go unused as a result. Thank you My Children of the Renewal who offer your daily crosses to Me, Jesus. Thank you, My generous children. I am a grateful God when My children try to please Me.”

Jesus, please forgive me for the times I have sinned this week, have been grouchy or irritable and defensive. I am sorry for the times I acted out of impatience instead of out of love. Please forgive me, Jesus and restore Your love and peace in my heart. I want to love in union with Your Sacred Heart and Your Holy Mother’s Immaculate Heart. Please give me a heart of love, Lord.

“My little lamb, all is forgiven and forgotten. I forgive you, My child. Come, do not be discouraged for the path to holiness is narrow and at times, My children stumble and trip. This is understandable for in life there are many tempters who work to bring frustrations to the surface. Do not be unsettled when this occurs. Recognize that you are experiencing a time of unease and ask Me, Your Jesus to grant you peace. Tell Me your feelings and what it is that is bothering you. Do this before you lash out at someone or appear displeased with them. In this way, I can assist you before you fall. In this way, your growth in holiness will proceed at a more rapid pace, for you will be given insight into the things, people, comments, etc., that cause frustration or trigger past memories, and open old wounds, as they say. I will provide graces for healing, understanding and love, My child. Bring everything to Jesus and together we will examine each and every struggle you face. I have the answers you seek My daughter. I and only I see into the depth of your wounds. I know each and every one of your wounds, what caused them, and what is needed for healing. I am also the greatest physician of all, and I know the prescribed remedy. I apply specific graces, needed to heal every wound and in this way, bringing each issue, concern, temptation to Me, I can heal you and together We continue on your path to eternal salvation, My Kingdom. Seek and do My Father's Will, My children and you will enter into My heavenly kingdom when your earthly work is done. Come, My children. Bring everything to Me, Your Jesus. I love you and I will never abandon you. I will love you no matter how great your sin, only bring it to Me, My children, for how else can I help you? Do not fear. I will not reject a repentant soul."

Thank You, merciful Jesus. Thank You, loving Redeemer. I love You. I praise You. I adore You.

"My little lamb, you received many graces at the meeting you and your family attended. My Mother and I were present with you and we were pleased to be in your company (all who attended). My faithful children who struggle to do My Will and to answer My invitation to follow Me, to change the direction of your life and to hold fast to the hem of My Mother's mantle, fear not! For I am with you. My Mother is with you, also and will keep you safely under Her mantle of protection. Do not fear these changes I ask of you, for they are for your protection, for your families' protection and for those I will send you. If it were not so, I would not ask such radical change in the lives of My little remnant. I desire your well being and I desire My children dwell in the safety of holy communities. I ask much of you My children, I realize and yet, you will be filled with many graces to do what it is I ask of you. I will give you deep joy, as well as peace. Be assured, I Your Jesus will never abandon you, My children. Even if you do not choose to follow the path My Mother and I have laid before you. Even if you do not accept the plan for community. For those I have personally invited to new life in community, should you say 'no', I respect your decision. I desire the best for My children, however, I have also given you the gift of free will and you are free to choose. I urge you, however to follow My plan, and that of My Mother for this is what will be best for you and for your families. Still, I love you, no matter what you decide. My daughter, you are hesitant about this act of acceptance from Your Jesus. You struggle even as you write, but I am pleased that you convey this message from Me to My children."

Jesus, I know how You have taught about the gift of free will and it is such a beautiful gift, which also comes with great responsibility. I am a little surprised to hear You making it sound 'ok' to go against Your will. I mean this only in context of the urgency of the times and also because Your will is truly what is best for us.

"Yes, My daughter. It is as you say. However, there will be some who have been called, invited and are needed in specific communities, who will deny My Mother's invitation. This is the sad reality, My little one. I want to assure these children of My love, even if they do not accept My invitation to build a future with hope. There is still an open invitation to follow Me and they are able, just as those who came before, to enter into My Kingdom. Of course, you know this but I state it in such a way as to make it obvious to you, My little lamb. Entering community does nothing to guarantee one's salvation, but it will certainly be more attainable. It is also the way and a means of physical protection, for My Mother and I will protect Our holy communities established under the mantle of My Mother. This is the future for My world, My daughter. Each child of Mine has a special role and mission and I desire this be fulfilled in their lives. My children have the freedom to choose, however. I love you, My children and that will never change."

Thank you, Jesus for Your love and for Your mercy.

"My child, you are concerned for those who will not desire to live in community?"

Yes, Jesus I am.

“And rightfully so, little one. Rightfully so. Pray, My child. Pray for My Mother’s fledgling communities. Pray for those leading each community and pray for those who refuse to live in community. Pray for those who do not have and do not know about living in community, but will flee their homes to live in refuges. My Father provides many avenues of protection and that is why there are new communities forming in various parts of the world, as well as refuges being established. Many refuges have already been established for quite some time, and every day another refuge is added for the protection of those who are Mine. Pray for those who will flee their homes in search of refuge. Pray, My child, pray. Many lives will be taken during the flight into ‘Egypt.’ Many, many lives will be lost. I repeat, pray, pray, pray My children of light. Souls are at stake. It is not My will that such death and destruction prevail, My little ones. Your Jesus does everything to hold back this great battle and yet it is up to you, My children to give Me your ‘yes.’ In this way, My Father’s plans will be fully realized and you will be protected. I do not guarantee the outcome for those who live outside My Will, for evil prowls throughout the world seeking the ruin of souls. To live outside of My Divine Will is to leave the mantle of protection. I love you. Love Me, dearest children of My heart. Return the love of Your Jesus.”

Jesus, I feel as if Your heart is pleading with us. Your love is very intense. Your heart is large enough for all and reaches out to us with such mercy and kindness. Oh, if everyone knew how gentle You are, Jesus they would run to Your embrace and do all You ask. And yet, how frequently I disappoint You Jesus, and say things before asking what You would have me say. I still have not learned to speak and act completely in Your will, so I understand that others may not, yet either. Jesus, please change us and do so quickly, Lord, since time is growing so short and the hour of darkness is upon us. This also means the hour of mercy is also upon us. In Your mercy, Lord hear and answer My prayer. We, Your children desire holiness, dear Savior and this is impossible without Divine intervention.

“My child, this is a pleasing request. I could fill you with grace for complete transformation in a moment if I so desired. There will be some, I will do this very thing, for their lives will be required in an act of martyrdom. For others, I desire the joy in the journey. For most, the path to holiness is filled with briars and brambles and these must be cleared in one’s soul just as brush must be cleared in the wild to build communities. Yes, My child, I could infuse you with such grace that you would be instantly holy. However, there is not as much merit in a case such as this, for the struggle of a soul is absent when I do it all for you. You understand this, My child when taken in this context?”

Yes, My Jesus. I understand. It would be like a parent or parents handing everything to their children without them having to do anything to earn these gifts and privileges. Instead of learning the value of work and the subsequent satisfaction in a job well done, they receive the fruits of their parents’ labor with little or no appreciation. Is this what you mean, Jesus?

“Yes, My daughter, this is a good analogy. I am offering My children the cross and the way of the cross. I will assist you to carry your crosses in life, but the way to salvation is the cross. In the case of holy martyrs, they are accepting the very heavy cross of martyrdom. In order to do so, in the face of great fear and utter confusion in many cases, I infuse these souls with graces to make the choice in alignment with the course of their lives. Holy souls need a vast supply of grace to choose Me in these final moments of their lives, since to do so (choose Me) will be the end of their earthly lives. As I have said before and often repeated, I do not abandon My children especially at the hour of their death.”

Thank You, My Lord and My God. You are all good and deserving of all of our love! Jesus, thank You that the work needed to build Your community is proceeding according to Your plans. Help us all to be patient and to trust in You and Your Holy Mother. Thank You that my sister bought a new house. Thank you for the location and for providing more land and food sources for their family. I praise You and I thank You, Jesus!

“My daughter, you may go in peace now, as you are very tired and have just returned from an important time of prayer and meetings. Again, you are unaware of the graces you and your family received on this recent trip. One day, you will know and you will all marvel at the gifts your generous Lord continues to bestow upon you. I granted very special graces to little (name withheld) who bore much suffering for souls during this difficult time. Through his suffering, the suffering of a little child, many souls benefitted including your souls and his. He received graces he needs for the future and for his specific calling in life. He has suffered much as a result of your family’s mission and he bears the anger from the tempter, for you needed to concentrate on the meeting. You will be very grateful to this little one for what he has taken so that you three can proceed on the path I have put before you.”

Jesus, I had no idea he was taking our suffering. That doesn’t seem fair for such a little one. We would all prefer to suffer rather than have him do so. He is so young and pure and he had no choice in the matter (going to the meeting).

“My child, My little one did have a choice. He chose to allow this and carried it for you, to the best of his understanding. He is My fiery one indeed and St. Michael protects him. My little one wants to do his part for your family’s mission. He wanted a ‘job’ in addition to supervising the door and he allowed his Jesus to give him a small cross, which felt very big to him. He regretted it only a few times, but still did not relinquish it to me. (name withheld) is a holy, little warrior of mine. Tell him, His Jesus is very pleased and that I love him and bless him. Now, go in peace for I, Your Jesus have all under control and in My perfect plan. I love you and I bless you in My name, in My Father’s name, and in the name of My Holy Spirit. Go in peace. Be love.”
Thank you, Jesus. Amen!

Hello, Jesus ever present in the Blessed Sacrament. I love, adore, and praise you, Jesus my King. Please set up residence in my heart, my King. Reign in my soul, Lord. Purify my entire being with the fire of Your love so that there is not one area of darkness left within me, for without Your love, Your all consuming flame of love, my heart would be void of light and of love. Consume me with the fire of Your love, so completely, Lord that everything within me is of You, Lord. I am unable to love, Jesus unless You love through me. Blessed Mother, just as you said to Jesus at the Wedding of Cana, ‘Son, they have no wine.’ Say to Jesus of my heart, ‘Son she has no love.’ Then ask Jesus to take my heart, so lacking in love, and fill it with new love, His love. He must completely restore/remake my little stony heart, Blessed Mother for He said that one does not put new wine into old wineskins for the wineskins will stretch and tear. That must mean His love, which is so complete, so full, so expansive, must be contained in a new heart; one that can expand because it is soft and tender, flexible, and supple, such that it can expand with the enormous content that is Jesus’ love. Blessed Mother, if you ask this of Jesus and if it will be good for me, Jesus will do as You ask. Blessed Mother, it must be good for all of Your children to love in this way, the way of Jesus, for we are to become like Him in every way. If we are to become like Him in every way, then it must mean we are to love like Jesus loves, for if we do not love the way He loves then we can do nothing else like Jesus for it all begins with love; not just any weak, flawed, human love but His divine Love. Therefore if you ask Him for this on my behalf Blessed Mother, I believe I know Jesus will do so for He will do anything You ask. You must see, dearest Mother how lacking in love I am. You surely know my every deficit for You are the perfect Mother and every good mother knows her children's strengths and weaknesses. Is this not true, my beautiful Mother, the Mother of my Lord? If it is not true of all earthly mothers, and I think it is, it is surely true of You, our Heavenly Mother. Please Blessed mother, I beg of you to ask Jesus to give me a heart of love, but not just any heart a new heart. It must be new, Blessed Mother so it can be pure and can hold at least some, if not all (no one would be able to live, I think) of Jesus' love. Dear Mother of my life, will you please ask Jesus for this? I come as a little child who is a beggar for love of Jesus.

"My little one, do not cry and do not be sad. I know you desire to love like Jesus and I also know that you need this love. I will ask Him, My precious little daughter who tries so hard and with much intensity to do what Jesus asks of you. I also see that you are unable to do and be everything He wants of you without these special graces of love. Quiet your heart and be at peace, for I have already asked this of Him. Yes, my child, you see, Jesus wants this for you and for all of His children. I want this, also for I want everything that God desires for I am in His perfect will. You are at peace now, My little one. That is good. I feel your desire to please Jesus and also your frustration with yourself when you fall short of his love. This is as it should be My daughter for it means you desire to live the life of the love, that is the life of the Blessed Trinity. This is God's will for all of His children. This will be a gradual process, and one which you are learning. I, as your Mother see the progress you are making, which you do not see. You focus on the times you were not as loving as you want to be and yes, I see these also. But, My child I see how much more you try. I see that your guardian angel takes your hands and picks you up. I see all of heaven cheering you on, as they do all of the children of light. All in Heaven pray for our children on earth. The angel guardians re close by walking with their charges and they lift you when you fall. Always, always get up My children of light, so that the light, My Jesus can remain within you. You must take these failed attempts to Jesus in Confession so that He may grant you complete and total forgiveness. When a soul has Jesus remove their sins and the space or void this creates, even if it is a small space/gap, there is then room to receive His graces, those that come from the Sacraments. You see, My child each sin committed from the small to the large offenses, creates a gap in your soul. This gap or empty space then, is devoid of light and love. When one continues to sin, these are more empty spaces. These are like a gray color and are gaps in your hearts, where before there was light. When one's soul has many, many sins and there is little light, the soul becomes more and more gray/shadows fill it, and it is dark. This is why, My children even when there are small offenses you must go, and I repeat, you must go to Confession. Allow My holy priest sons to hear your Confession. Then My Son Jesus will absolve your sins, through Our priest sons and the voids in your souls will once again be filled with God's light. This light eradicates all sin and darkness. Go often My children, so that your souls remain in a constant state of grace and remain filled with light and God's love. This Divine remedy will prevent you from ever falling too far, for it is very difficult, if not impossible for a soul filled with God's light, with God's grace to commit a mortal sin. I say it is impossible for when one frequents the Sacrament of Reconciliation; one is completely reconciled with God and therefore also with all of Heaven such is the unity with God for those in Heaven. When one's soul is in the state of grace, one is living and breathing God, as it were. It is only when a soul does not take their smaller offenses to Confession, for absolution and healing, that souls continue heaping smaller offenses over already gray areas of their soul. In this way, lots of smaller offenses numb a person's awareness of and sensitivity to God. Therefore, the offenses begin to be rationalized by the person who does not frequent the Sacrament of Confession and before that person realizes it, there are larger temptations to sin. It is very easy for souls to fall into mortal sin when they are not caring for their soul and seeking frequent "checkups" in a manner of speaking. There is much focus in this age of disobedience, on preventive health and that is good. However, We would be very remiss if We in Heaven did not reiterate the importance of preventive health in the spiritual life. My children, your souls will live for eternity. It is important to care for the body that the Father in Heaven gave you, yes, but how much more important is it to care for your souls, which you will have forever. Do not be in a position of regret when you stand before Jesus in your judgment, that you did not spend as much time, if not more time caring for your spiritual health as you did for your physical health. Go to Confession regularly, My children, for your soul needs this to remain healthy, full of God giving life, love, mercy, and truth. I recommend that My children go to Confession at the least once every month and I encourage you to go even more frequently. It would be very good to go weekly, but if that is not possible for you, I recommend every two weeks. Some of My children would be making a very big improvement to go monthly. Some of My children, who are seeking to grow in holiness will be aware of a need to go more frequently. I realize many of My children rarely set foot in the Sacrament of Confession. Yes, My daughter, there are many who consider themselves to be good Catholics who think they are doing well to go to Confession once or twice a year. Many more of My children who consider themselves to be good Catholics go to Confession even more seldom. It is this group of My Catholic children who are at great risk of becoming fallen away Catholics. My daughter, I know of your passion to reach your brothers and sisters who have stopped going to Mass. I tell you now, ask My holy priest sons to preach on the wonderful spiritual fruits of going to Confession on a regular basis and to expand the hours they are available for Confession, for the souls of our little children are starving for graces they do not seek via the Sacrament of Reconciliation. For souls who are unaware, there are literally thousands and thousands (if graces could be counted, which is not possible for humans) of graces going unused due to the numerous children who do not seek and ask for them by going to Confession. My children, how do you think you can survive the temptations of the current age, that are like no other age, when you do not remain in a state of grace. Please, My children, listen to your Mother. I know what is best for you. You must return to the beautiful treasure in My son's church, the Sacrament of Reconciliation, for complete forgiveness of your sins. In this way, by regular Confession and My Son's absolution, you will hunger and thirst for My Son in the Eucharist. Remain united to the living water, for everything flows from the heart of Jesus. When one goes to Confession frequently and by this I mean at a minimum once every month, and goes to holy Mass with a heart full of love, receives My Son in the Eucharist, nourishes this unity through the week in prayer, there is almost nothing one cannot accomplish for Jesus, such is the unity with God and all of Heaven. Please dear children of My heart, do these things which are fundamental to the life of a Christian, so that My Son, Our Lord will be present in a powerful way, in your hearts. A heart full of grace and love, My daughter can literally change one corner of the world. We need many, many children living this life of grace to change hearts, My dear one. You cannot begin to imagine the beauty of one soul, filled with the light of grace which is the love of My Son. Graces from holy souls are like beams of light, with many particles of color, coming up from the earth to Heaven. More graces travel down these beams of light like a passageway back to the soul from Heaven and then these graces go with the soul wherever God takes each soul during their earthly journey. This beautiful bouquet of light, unseen by human eyes, but seen by the angels of light and all in Heaven, travels in and through each soul of My children of light and permeates each place and every person they meet. Do you see, My little one, how beautiful it is to be filled with My Son's light and love? Do you see how much it is possible for holy souls to impact this world, especially this age of disobedience where so much darkness prevails? Picture this image, My children. Imagine you are standing in a very dark cave. Perhaps there are many of you on tour in some of the splendid caves created by God through His act of nature. Imagine that it is so dark, that you cannot see your hand when you hold it up to your face. You can see nothing at all. When the lights go out everyone stands completely still. There is no movement for fear of running into one another and creating chaos and panic. Your guide encourages all to be very still, at ease so as to avoid a panic. The guide assures you that very soon, the electricity will be restored, and to wait patiently. Soon after the complete silence, people begin to whisper to one another and then in very hushed tones, to maintain a sense of calm. Someone asks you if you or anyone with you has a flashlight. No one does, but someone says, 'I have a book of matches.' It is so dark though they cannot see to look in the purse where the matches are someplace at the bottom. The person who says this is encouraged by the others to look for the matches. People move carefully away, ever so slightly, from the person giving them room to search, by feeling inside the purse. What seems like a long time passes and the person finds the book of matches in her purse. She lights one. Everyone is very relieved for just one match produces much light in this cave full of darkness and void of all light. People begin to check on their loved ones and see, really see where each one is standing and draws their family members close. Soon, though the small match goes out. Not to worry, the lady assures everyone, I have more and she lights another. This time, people take the opportunity to look around and assess where they are standing in the cave relative to where they all need to move to get to the mouth of the cave. They assess which people are in the front of the group, who would need to move first to start toward the direction of the exit. The guide knows the way and just when they begin to formulate a plan, the match is extinguished. The group says to the lady; 'Don't light another until we talk. Let's save the matches for the exit process. We can talk in the dark and when we are ready, light another so we can begin to move while there is light from the match. How many do you have?' someone says. 'I don't know, for I didn't count them. There were several, though I just don't know how many. Oh, that is ok; but just ration them so we have as many as possible in case the electricity does not come back and we can at least make our way toward the exit and leave.'

"My children, do you see how important it is to have this light, which in your souls is the light of God's love? In this story, only one person was equipped with matches. Even one person made such a difference. With the light from only two matches, there was a sense of calm. After being in total darkness, the light from one match enabled parents to locate their children and draw their families close. For the first time, people really looked at one another and valued their presence, their state of being alright during the darkness. With the lights from the second match, all were able to assess the state of the cave and where they were in proximity to the route needed to travel to safety, to exit the cave and be in the presence of the sunshine, God's source for earthly light and life. You see, My children, how one soul makes a difference? Imagine now that 6 people had matches. How much more quickly and efficiently could the group move about in the cave and formulate an exit strategy. How much easier would it be for others to rescue them if they could walk much closer to the path near the entrance? You see, My children, the more darkness that exists in your current situation, the brighter the light, even from one match. The contrast is so great that people even remarked at the brightness of the light in the cave just from one small match. My children, be light for this dark world in which you are living. Be love. Give your 'yes' to Jesus to live in the light of His love. In this way, more and more of our children, your brothers and sisters will be illuminated by the light of Christ. A soul in darkness, who longs for God's love is attracted to the light in the soul of another. Do you see, My children how light for those in the story of the cave experience, provided truth and clarity to them? They were able to see, for the first time for some, how much they valued one another, needed one another, and how much they valued the gift of life given to them by God the Father. In this story, the children in darkness decided for a plan to exit the darkness so they would live; for if they remained in the darkened cave, with no return of electricity, they would surely die. Oh, some may have lived and exited by groping around and by God's grace being led by the guide to the exit, providing the guide could determine the way. It is doubtful the guide would have done so, though for darkness causes confusion and a loss of the sense of direction. Such is also the effects of a darkened soul. One with such darkness has a loss of direction and purpose in their life. A soul such as this gropes about in the darkness trying one route after another with so many failed attempts at exiting the darkness that one begins to give up and lose hope. Souls in this example, in darkness begin then to be angry with the fact that they are in darkness and then begin to pull other souls into their dark space. They do so out of anger and sometimes out of loneliness. 'If I can't escape this lot in my life', these souls think, 'at least I can have company in my misery'. All along, the exit was just ahead, but they were in such darkness, they could no longer recognize the small ray of light. Their eyes had grown so accustomed to darkness; it is almost as if they had grown blind to the light. My children of light, what would you do in this example, if your brothers and sisters were lost in a cave, with no matches and no hope of electricity? My children, you would take your flashlights, extra batteries, some rope, some water, and some food, and set out in search of your brothers and sisters who were lost in the cave. Yes, My dears, I know you and I know this is what you would do. You would also seek the assistance of a guide, an expert in spelunking and enlist their services. You would quickly devise a rescue plan and embark on a rescue mission. This is what I, your Mother am asking of you. You must frequent the Sacraments to give you the additional graces in your souls that are especially needed during these dark times. Look at this as having a flashlight with many additional batteries to keep the light burning brightly for a long period of time. You would bring life giving water and some food for your brothers and sisters who, by the time you reach them, may be parched from thirst, and starving of nutrition. This is what you must bring with you, the love of Christ for you must be prepared to give and give of your love, the love Jesus has filled you with from His Sacred Heart, for it takes much love to heal souls who have lived in darkness for a very long time. Light from the flashlight is very important but once you find the group who is lost, if they are dying of thirst they will be unable to follow you out of the dark cave. You must bring them the basic sustenance of life, which is water and then some light food. One cannot eat much after having been without food for a long time. One must drink and then have light food. This means in the spiritual life, you just love your starving neighbor; do not give them an entire catechesis on spiritual doctrine. They will not be able to digest this My children. They must first receive life giving water. This My children is God's love. Give them love My children. Listen to them. Hear their fears, their concerns; you do not need to know what to say. You do not need to be equipped with all of the answers and have an elaborate detailed map of the cave with an explanation of where they are, how they got to the location, why the electricity went out, and a lecture of why they mustn't leave home without a flashlight or at least some matches when they go on a tour of caves. No, My children, for those who are dying of thirst will simply lay their heads down and pray for death. This is not helpful. One first administers what is needed. In this case, one opens a canteen, lifts the head of their brother dying of thirst and assists them to drink. Only a little, you say. There is plenty more, but allow your body to absorb this for a few moments before drinking too much or your body will reject this life giving water. You clear the area, asking others to give the victim space so they can breathe. You then give them a few more sips. You sit with them as they regain some energy, some life. You talk to them in quiet tones, encouraging them, telling them how happy you are to have found them. How brave they have been, to have lived through so much darkness, to have been lost for so long and to have not given up hope. You are sweet and kind which is balm of love to their weary, sad soul and they begin to feel strong enough to take a little bit of the food you have brought. Just a little, you say, until your stomach is used to the food and then we have more for you. They have begun to trust you now, for you had more water for them just as you said you did and therefore they believe that you will also have more food for them. And you do and you give them a little more. When they feel a bit stronger and are now sitting upright, you help them to their feet. The group is now ready to move, but only for a few yards. They must then sit down and rest some more for their muscles have atrophied while they were waiting to be rescued. You then give them more water and food and wait while they rest, until once again they are able to continue. This time, they can walk further. My children, this repeats itself, nourishment, walking, then resting, more nourishment, more rest, more walking until you are all safely to the mouth of the cave. Then, you must patiently wait for their eyes to adjust to the fullness, the brightness of the light, for their vision has dimmed and their eyes are unaccustomed to the bright light from the sun. They have been assisted though by seeing the light from your flashlights and by this time, as they have neared the mouth of the cave, there has been some light causing the tunnels in the cave to be less dark. You see, My beautiful children of the Renewal with what patience and love you must rescue your brothers and sisters in darkness. There will be time to discuss what happened and how to prevent this in the future, but that is not important when their lives were at stake. It was only important to provide the necessities to restore and sustain their lives to exit the darkness. This is how one must approach a brother and sister in darkness, give them kindness, mercy, and love. Be gentle with the fragile nature in which you find a soul in darkness. Be a gentle light, not a bright, blinding, judgmental beam. Be love. Be mercy and forgiveness. Be all love. 'But Mother' you say, 'We do not know what a soul needs who has been in darkness. We do not know how to act.' To which I say, read the Gospels, My children of light. See with what great mercy, My Son treated repentant sinners. He did not cast them aside to deal only with those deemed important at the time. No, He did not. He stopped and looked at each soul in need. Oh, with what love My Son gazed into the heart of a soul in desperate need of love. His gaze would melt their heart, and at the same time renew their strength and hope. His loving gaze could heal the most desperate sinner, for He is all love and He accepted each person, forgave them, gave them the dignity each soul created by God desires and deserves. He did not overlook their sins but called them with love, to come toward Him who is the source of light, the origin and source of love. This My child, My children, is what you must emulate. Read My Son's Gospel and you will know what you are being called to do and to be. Read the Acts of My Son's Apostles and you will understand that you are also being called to be His apostles for apostles are bearers of good news, the news of Christ, the news that God is love and He loves all. This is what you, My children of light, My Children of the Renewal are called to be for your Jesus, for My Son. Be His light, bring His love to the nations. This is all, My children and this is everything."

Thank you dearest Mother of My Lord. Thank you for this beautiful teaching. Thank You that You show us how to be children of light and how we are to bring the love of Jesus to our dear brothers and sisters living without the light of Jesus, for they have lost their way. Help us dear Mother, to be those children who decided for Jesus to bring light, water and food and most of all love to those lost and living in darkness. Thank You, Blessed Mother that You love Your children and that You long for us to be all that God asks us to be. Help us to give our 'yes' dearest Mother as you so easily and generously gave Your 'yes' to bring Jesus into the world so that we could all benefit from His saving, redeeming act on Calvary. Oh, what love, what generosity, what mercy lives in Your Immaculate Heart, dearest Mother of God. Help us dear Mary to be like You, a perfect disciple of Jesus in every way. Teach us dear Lady, our Star and guide us through this perilous but blessed journey of life so that we follow You to Jesus, our Treasure, our God. Thank You, dearest Mother that You do not give up on us and for Your continual prayers for us and Your lessons of love. I love You, Blessed Mother and I thank You.

Thank You, Jesus for sharing Your Holy Mother with all mankind. What a beautiful gift You give us, Your poor lost children. Surely we will exit this darkness, Lord when You give us a bright, sinless, perfect Mother to guide us. Thank You, My Lord and My God.

“You are welcome, My little lamb, My daughter. Your gratitude delights Me and I am grateful in return that you recognize and accept this gift from Me. This perfect gift of My Mother and her love should never be rejected, so great a gift it is that I give Her to My children. Follow My beautiful Mother Mary and all of Her words, Her messages of love and direction, for She alone perfectly followed Me, Her Son and lived a sinless holy, perfect life of love at every moment. Who better to teach My children of light how to be a holy person, than My Mother. If not Her, no one.”

Yes, Lord. Thank you, Jesus!

Jesus, have You anything more You wish to say to me?

“Yes, My child. Read, contemplate, and study the parable My Mother told you about rescuing those in darkness. This cave parable is rich with spiritual truths, and though simple on the surface, has many, many layers of meaning. Explore these truths. Dig deeply to uncover the layers. For example, the guide She mentions, the expert one would seek to lead such a rescue mission to seek those lost in the cave story, are My holy priest sons. There are many guides, My daughter, and these guides are very skilled and adept at finding lost souls and leading them out of darkness. Those who perfect this mission of mercy are My holy priest sons who follow My Mother as She is the Mother of My Church. Those who love and follow My Mother, the first disciple, the Ark of the Covenant in the age above all ages, My incarnation and subsequent birth among men, have the surest way to Me and to My Father. She is the new Eve. She is the trailblazer, the guide among guides, the Star. You see, My daughter, just as the wise men saw the Star of Bethlehem and followed it until they came to their destination, Me, so it is for you and for all of My children. The brightest woman, the brightest creature of all mankind, the One full of grace and therefore completely full of My love, of Me, of God, is Mary, the Woman clothed with the Sun with a crown of 12 stars. She, My beautiful Mother Mary, leads Her children in the most direct, straight path to Me, Jesus. You see, My children of light, it is My Mother and yours, Mary, who knows the way of salvation for She prepared it for you; She walked it with me. She stood with Me during every single moment of My life up through and including the final moments of My earthly life and death on the cross, the final moment that ended the era of the time period of life before redemption. She was the bridge from the Old Testament time, the Children of Israel, to the New Testament time, the time of Christ and the children of light, the children of the Gospel. She brought me, into the world by the perfect ‘yes’ and one that She gave day after day, each and every moment of Her days - Her beautiful, perfect, humble, ‘yes.’ Her ‘yes’ reversed the ‘no’ of Adam and Eve in the Garden. Her ‘yes’ to the angel, My messenger was the word that caused Her initiation of the greatest event ever known in the history of creation, God became Man. I, by God’s will became incarnate in the precious vessel of the only perfectly holy woman God created who, by Her ‘yes’ brought about the saving act of Me, the Redeemer, the Messiah, so long awaited, so long prayed for by My people. Yes, My holy Mother Mary’s ‘yes’ brought about and fulfilled God’s will for Me to save the entire human race. She deserves so much gratitude, so much love and so much honor by the entire human race, but instead many children of God reject the very person whose ‘yes’ brought about My salvific act of love. Children, do not reject your Mother, My Mother, for without Her perfect humility, Her perfect charity, Her perfect will within the Trinity’s perfect will, you would not have the benefit of My death and resurrection, My Holy Church on earth and the Sacraments of life. You would not be here, My children. For without My coming, just at the right moment in history, the world would have destroyed itself and therefore you would not have been born into the world, for there would not have been a world, the earth in which to be born. Yes, My daughter you must begin to see the importance of My Mother's role in each and every life on earth, for without Her 'yes' not only would the act of redemption not have occurred in the moment planned from all time by My Father, the earth would have been destroyed by evil men who follow My adversary and yours. However, because of My Mother's 'yes' My Father's will was done and all the rest, as you say, 'is history.' So, you see My children, My Mother will never lead you astray and not only will She never lead you astray, but She is the perfect guide to lead you to Me. For those of you who think you do not need My Mother, think again. For you who say this are putting yourselves above Me, your Lord and Savior, for even I needed My Mother. 'But, Jesus', you say, 'You are God. Surely You did not need Mary.' To which I say, Yes, I am God, and I am also incarnate man, for I took on humanity, true humanity and in My humanity and in My Divinity as the Son of the Father I needed a Mother, and not just any mother would do. For the Son of God and the Son of man, the Father desired a perfect Mother, perfect in every way. Would I choose something less? Of course not, for She is the Holy of Holies, the Ark of the Covenant, the One who would carry Me in Her Immaculate womb, nourish Me in utero, and on Her milk as an infant, the One who would love so perfectly and completely to love, nurture, and care for God's Son in the only way acceptable to God—perfectly. Your Mother and My Mother is the only completely human soul who is perfect in every way, and by that I mean every way. Is She perfect of Her own accord and by Her own accord? No, of course not. She says emphatically, no! She is made so by God the Father with the specific purpose and mission as Mother of God, Mother of the human race reversing what Eve did by her 'no' and by Mary's 'yes' leading My children back to Me, back to My Father's kingdom, back into the fullness of the Father's family. My children, follow My beautiful Mother Mary to Me, Your Jesus and all will go well for you. Study Her cave parable for insight into your specific and most particular situation, for My children of light, you are living in a world that has decided for darkness. You are living in an age of disobedience, and consequently confusion, darkness, loss of purpose of life, loss of direction and the resulting consequences—the culture of death. Children of the Renewal, yours is a rescue mission. Bring My love, My light, My mercy to all you meet. Be My love to others. There is a time to teach. There is a time to correct, of course, but this is also a time when souls are at stake, for they are dying for love, dying for mercy, and you are the ones My Father has planned from all time to live in this time of darkness to be His light to the world. I am the light of the world, and you must live in Me and I in you to be My torchbearers. Always come to the source of light and life, truth and life, Me. You will find Me in the Eucharist, the very life, source and summit of the church. Unite your lives to Me in the Holy Eucharist, the source of all life, the source of the water of life and take Me to the dark world. Children of light, go—seek out the lost, love your brothers and sisters, pray for them, carry their burdens. Only, ask Me to help you or you will not be able to do so. Follow the words of My Mother. Be examples of what it is to walk in the light. Be holy, be living examples. Live in simplicity, live in love, unity and peace.”

Thank You, Lord. Help us to do as You say, Lord. We can do nothing without You, Jesus, Lord. My friend has asked that I speak with you and seek Your direction in this difficult event that has transpired. Jesus, if it is Your will, please tell my friend what it is you would have him to do. He wants only to do Your will. Do You have anything You wish to say to Me, Jesus about this? If not, I understand for I believe You will guide him as will Your Holy Mother. I am asking because he asked me to, Jesus.

“My child, tell My son that I will direct every decision in his life. He asked that I bring his family along and I have, and I will continue to do so. (name omitted), My precious, faithful son, do not fear and do not allow any anxiety access to your precious heart. I, Your Jesus, have never abandoned you and I will never do so, nor will I leave you now in this difficult circumstance. My son, just as I give the gift of free will to My creatures, I also ask that My children respect this free will in others, even in their children. I know this is a great cross at times. It is one which I bear with you, My son. I allow you to experience to a very small degree what I experience on a continual basis and that is watching My children make choices outside of the Divine Will. I say this (name omitted) to remind you of something you already know but that is the familiarity of the suffering of Your Savior. I also remind you that with the cross comes the resurrection and surely without the cross there can be no resurrection. My son, I do not say this to insult your intelligence for Your Jesus knows full well that you understand the principle of the cross. I say this, only to remind you that you told me long ago that you will to be united to Me on the cross, for you there is no other way, just as there was no other place My Mother willed to be, but with me in My Crucifixion. My son, you must have a renewed sense of trust in Me and in My plan. With some, we must let them go, free in their choices. In this way, trusting in Me and in the Blessed Mother, when those you love return, they will do so also with freedom. Their love will be much stronger for they will have experienced your love which you freely give, and your mercy. I know this is not what you had planned though you saw it coming, it is not what you desire. The end that you desire My son will come to fruition, but will need time to germinate, time to be nourished in the soil, time to take root and time to sprout. In some cases there is a need to pull up the plants that have become infested with a growth, till the soil, allow the soil to rest, rotate the seeds and begin again. Now is this time, My son whom I love most dearly. Now is the time. In your wisdom, acquired through much suffering and prayer, you know this time has come. I ask you to bear this suffering and this knowledge with the graces My Mother freely and generously gives you. Be like My Mother, who allows Her children the space to reject Her, forgives them, constantly prays for them and intercedes before the Father and lovingly takes them back when they see they have made bad choices. She rejoices at their return, and celebrates their unity with me, never once chastising Her prodigal children. Only acceptance, love and mercy greets Her children and Mine when they return. Do likewise, My son. All will be well. Do not worry about the house for it has always belonged to you no matter who lives there, and it always will. Regardless of what you decide, I am with you. I love you and I trust you to follow Me and My Mother wherever We lead you. That is all and that is everything. My dearest son, I love you with a passion known only to Me, for My love is all consuming and yet life-giving. I walk with you and you walk with Me.”

Thank you, Sweet Jesus for your direction and life-giving words for my friend. Thank You, Jesus!

“You are welcome, My daughter. I love you and all of My children of light and all of My children of darkness, too who were all meant to be My children of light. My little lamb, you cannot comprehend the utter sadness I have in My Sacred Heart for My lost children. Do all that you can to bring My love to them, My daughter. Do everything and anything you can within your state in life. My mission for you is a rescue mission and this is why you must contemplate your life and your choices. Consider why it is you were called into the service of others as a (profession omitted). You were called to minister to your brothers and sisters specifically to their hearts. My child, this calling was no coincidence, for though the treatment prescribed by physicians is physical in nature, you were aware even at a young age that the care delivered needed to be delivered with patience, love, and mercy. You learned valuable skills and lessons of love when you delivered care. You later learned leadership skills when I put you in leadership positions so that you could teach others your way, which is My way of leadership in service to those you are leading. You cull out the gifts and talents others have and call them to contribute for the whole of the team. This gives others the insight and knowledge of their own dignity and worth as children of God. My daughter do not become frustrated with Your Lord for leaving you in this field of thorns and briars, for I give you the path that is difficult for your good, so you will learn to walk the way of My Passion. I love you and I ask much of you. My precious son, your husband, has walked a similar leadership path, unique to his calling, filled with mines and obstacles. I prepared him for much, and for his mission and yours beginning with his time in the dessert when he felt alone, lost and abandoned by his parents. (name withheld), My beautiful, precious son, I never abandoned you. My dearest son, I was with you during all of your childhood. I went to camp with you. I laid in bed with you as you tossed and turned at night, tears streaming down your face in the dark when no one could see. I saw, My dear son. Your tears were My tears. Believe Me when I tell you, I was more sad than you and yet I allowed this time, My son so that one day, when the little children I send to you and your wife feel completely lost and abandoned, you will have a small idea how they feel. Who better to comfort one without parents than one who longed for his parents to love him and to desire his presence among them? You lost your beautiful Mother, long before the diagnosis of Alzheimer's, My son. Yes, I know how you lost many years. Your Mother, who loved you so dearly and wanted to give you everything she knew to make you into a leader among men, for she saw your great potential, through illness could not possibly give you the love you so deserved and that she desired for you. She is giving this beautiful, motherly love in the best way, now from My Heavenly Kingdom. She prayed for Me to give you a loving wife, who knew how to give you affection and unconditional love and also how to give you the space and freedom to be the man that you are. You can thank your Mother and your Blessed Mother for bringing (name withheld) into your life. She also prayed you would have daughters as she knew you did not have your own to love and this would give you the insight and lessons needed for your future mission. Even the experience you had in the military was provided by Me, My son. Contemplate all of your life experiences in light of your future mission, that which you know, and begin to understand that My hand has been upon you from the very beginning. My son, even the separation you experienced when your Dad was serving in WWII, to the time of deep and sincere grief having to leave your father figure, your Grandfather, was preparation for the mercy and compassion for (name withheld) and the other children I will send you. Be patient, be merciful, be compassionate, My brave son. You have born many wounds from lack of love, from separation, and even from living apart from Me. See how I gently guided you, loved you, gave you your space, your free will and planted seeds of longing and love in your heart. I sent people into your life to give you glimpses of me and My Church until one day, you returned in full force with the conviction, passion, and the decisiveness which I placed in your temperament. I love you, My son and I have never abandoned you. You are a true man of God now, not perfect I know, but growing in the way of holiness. Continue to pray and to lead your family, My son, for this leadership, this virtue, this sword of righteousness tempered with a heart full of love and mercy are the tools you need and that I am asking, counting on you to cultivate and use will be exactly what is needed for your mission, which was given to you by My Father in Heaven. Take courage, My son for you will do all I ask and you will follow Me, loving your wife and all I entrust to you, until you take your last breath and enter into My heavenly kingdom. Yes, the mission I give you is a challenging one, but you would settle for nothing less than one in which you are stretched and challenged. Hold fast to St. Joseph's hand and to My Mother's mantle. Be that mantle of protection for My holy priest sons and for your family and the children I send you who will become your family. I give you My Father, St. Joseph to guide you in every way, and My Mother to show you how to love all of My children in the way only She knows. She is also teaching your wife to love and for this, you may count on her to reinforce. Together, you must learn to love like the Holy Family, for this type of unity and love is a necessary requirement and even a pre-requisite to embracing those I will send you. My son, pray for guidance for the meeting in (place withheld) which is vital for your community. View each man as your brother, for they truly are. They will be closer to you than any other and you and My daughter will understand this more deeply over time. I give you (names withheld) your neighbors to love and cherish in a special way. They will be closer to you than anyone else on earth. My Mother has orchestrated every event leading up to this community, and every event afterwards to bring about the fulfillment of Her plans and My plans. (private message omitted) My son, I have good days in store for you, though difficult, they will be blessed days. Be at peace, giving every decision over to Me and to St. Joseph for we will guide you. Be of good cheer and have a light heart. You were also blessed with a sweet, gentle sense of humor. Use this to bring joy to others during these difficult but grace filled days. I love you both My darlings. Go in peace, now to love and serve Me and to love and serve one another. Be love to one another and to everyone you meet. Bring joy to your meeting. This is a new adventure and your listening, compassion, sensitivity and wisdom, both of you bring, along with your daughter's pure love and joy, will be a welcome and needed addition to the meeting and to the community. All will be well. Go forward with anticipation of the many graces and gifts I have for My faithful children who answered the invitation to form Her community. I implore you to be open and accepting of all for many are seemingly confident, but are afraid deep down and they will benefit from your friendship, your confidence, your humility and most of all from your acceptance and love. I give you the graces of hospitality which are sorely lacking in this age. I love you. I bless you in My Father's name, in My name, and in the name of My Holy Spirit. Go in peace, in joy and in My love."

Thank you, Jesus, My Lord and My God!

August 10, 2014, Adoration Chapel

Hello My Jesus ever present in the Blessed Sacrament. I love you and am grateful to be with you today, Lord. Thank You for the many blessings You give all of us, Lord. I am grateful for the rain and the warm weather. Please bless the men who are on retreat this weekend. Change our hearts, Jesus so that we are able to love in the way You would have us love. Jesus, please be with (names withheld) as they discern where You would like them to move, and what it is You are calling them to do. I know she is disappointed the other property fell through, but knows it wasn't in Your will or it would have. Please direct their footsteps so that every decision made is made in alignment with Your will. I trust in Your plan for them, Lord.

"My daughter, I am grateful to you for visiting Me in Adoration of My presence in the Blessed Sacrament. Once again, you are weary My child. Rest in Me and I will renew you."

Thank you, Lord.

"I encourage My children who are following Me and carrying heavy burdens for those who are not yet following Me to get more rest at night when possible. There is much to do for Me during the day and I need My children of light to get more sleep at night. This is necessary to remain at peace during the day, and to give My peace to others. It is also important so that My children can remain alert to My promptings."

Jesus, I am sorry I have not been getting more sleep. I should, and I know You have asked me to do so. It seems there is not enough time to do everything while I am in this job that is consuming and stressful, and yet in my heart I know I just need to trust You more and give everything over to You. I obviously have not learned to do this yet, Lord. There are so many issues at work that come up all day, every day and so many deadlines that we struggle to meet with too few people. Please help things to go more smoothly, and help us to trust You more and not become so tense. I really need Your help and graces, Lord to accomplish this habit of giving all to You, especially each issue. It seems so distracting at work, Lord and very busy with meetings and frequent interruptions, that focusing on the next task or the next person takes so much effort. Lord, I am not at all what you want me to be and I'm very sorry that I am such a slow learner. I used to be more encouraging to others and more understanding and patient. I feel the demands of this job are taking such a toll on my heart and my soul. Please help me to be more at peace during the work day, Jesus. How do I become the person you want me to be, Lord, in the midst of such chaos?

"My daughter, bring every situation as it presents itself to Me. I made My children in such a way as to focus on one thing at a time. You can only do something in the present moment and focusing on everything that needs to get done by a certain time frame is focusing on future work. Of course, one needs to know what deadlines are approaching and plan as best as humanly possible the tasks to be accomplished to meet one's goals, however I am specifically speaking about the situation where one worries about what is needed, versus planning what is needed. I need My children to be focused and to be well directed with purpose, and most importantly to be at peace during the storms of life. When you are being interrupted constantly, due to other's poor planning you must ask Me what I would have you to do or to say. If you need to control your environment in order to get work done, do so, whether you close your door or go to a conference room. Having more structure in your day will help. Set aside 2 hours per day to work on contracts, 2 hours for meetings, 2 hours for your associates, and 2 hours to respond to emails. In this way, (as an example) you will have more structure and will not feel as though you are being blown about in the wind. On another day you can spend 2 hours planning, perhaps on Mondays and Fridays. In this way, you will be more efficient and make better use of the increments of time. I realize there are days filled with meetings, but on days that don't have as many follow this guide and I will help you. When 8 hours has passed, review what is needed for the next day, make a schedule to follow and then go home. I will help you to be more productive, and also some things will just not get done. That is alright, My daughter for there is too much work for one person. It is My will that you work hard, stay focused, remain at peace, and have time in the evening for your family and the things I need you to do to prepare for your move. The move will come regardless of your ability to accomplish it all and regardless of your weariness or lack of peace. I tell you these things to assist you so it will go well for you."

Thank you, Lord for giving me such a simple, specific plan to follow. I will put this to use and I pray it works well. I believe You will need to intervene for this to work as there really are constant "fires to put out" and the best laid plans seldom come to pass when it comes to my schedule. I feel it is "not my own" and that is fine if it's Yours but it often feels as though something and "someone" is working against me.

"My child, it is as you say. This is why you must give everything to Me for I am stronger and cannot be derailed from My plans, as mere humans are. I am God, and nothing can prevent Me from success in carrying out My plans for My children with the exception of your free will. However, when one gives Me each and every task, problem, issue, choice, and decision, it becomes Ours. We work together and when I have something given to Me by My children to do, I do it well. Practice this plan I have laid out for you and all will go smoothly. You will see My child, it will go better for you and you will have a new and fresh perspective."

Thank You, Jesus. I am very hopeful now and most grateful.

“My child this is an important spiritual lesson and practice for you to develop until it becomes commonplace for you. I want you to bring every single issue, choice, decision, project, task to Me no matter how small. Give it to Me and ask My direction and guidance. Say, ‘Jesus, what would you have me to do about this? What would you like me to say about this, Jesus?’ Wait for My guidance and direction. Wait patiently until you hear My direction. It is very noisy in the current age. Practice going within your heart frequently throughout the day. When the time of great distress is upon you, this spiritual practice will be most important so that you are open to My direction and can be at peace in what will seem to others as chaos. Your peaceful attitude, your composure, your ability to think with clarity and respond to My direction will be critical to the lives of those around you. It is for this reason I leave you where you are My little one so that you learn to employ this important spiritual practice in each and every situation. My little lamb, the situations in which you will be placed in the future, as part of the mission My Father and I entrust to you will be unsuccessfully carried out (on your part) if you do not learn to hear My voice and train your heart and mind to seek My counsel in every moment of your day. I ask much of you, I know My daughter and yet you are capable of learning this. If it were not so, I would not ask this of you. My Mother will help you. She carried out each and every day of Her life in this prayerful manner. Her disposition was one of prayer and unity to My will. It is not that I, Your Jesus think you cannot make your own decisions, use the good judgment I gave you, for of course you can. This is not the issue, it is that when the times of great trials-at their climax are upon you and your community, no human being would be able to cope, and at the same time minister to My children injured, frightened and in need of so much physical and spiritual assistance. Without Me, all would flee and go into hiding from their brothers and sisters, so great will be the needs in front of you. However, I will be with you, guiding and directing your every action. In order to receive this direction, My daughter, you will need to have cultivated an open heart, an open will so that your will is fused with mine. We must be in lockstep prior to this mission to carry it out the way in which My Father wants it to be. We will be so united, you and I that We will be like two dance partners who are familiar with the other’s steps and movements and direction so that We move together fluidly, at peace and with such unity, such purpose and such grace that We are inseparable and no question would even emerge about you and I being partners. Do you see, My child? This is the way I would like all of My children of light to be. In this way, many souls will be touched, many lives transformed, and all service carried out with great love, peace, and joy. My little lamb, this dance, this carrying out of one’s duties in lockstep with Me is being in the Divine Will. I intended all of My children to live in this way, in My Divine Will, in My Sacred Heart, in the Heart of the Blessed Trinity from the beginning of time. Come to Me, My children. Give Me everything. I will make all things new. We will work, live and love together, I in you and you in Me. In this way, We will restore the unity and mutual lives intended by God the Father. This will be a way of life during the Era of Peace, but I am asking My children, those who know Me and follow Me to practice and perfect living this way now, for you will be the examples for My other children when they repent and return to My embrace. You must learn this way now, My children for We will rebuild the world the way My Father intended it to be. Peace must reign in your hearts now, so that My children hear My voice, My direction and follow Me. I say “follow Me” not in a general sense but in a very real and tangible way in each moment of your day. For to follow Me generally, to Heaven means to follow Me in every decision, in every choice, in every problem presented to you. For it takes many small steps to walk one mile, many more to walk 5 miles and many more to walk miles, does it not My child?”

Yes, Lord. It certainly does.

“But, My little lamb, if one does not take the first step and the second, and the third step, if one sits down after a few steps, too tired or too despairing to go further, the first mile is not completed. So, you see, such it is in the spiritual life. Each step with Your Jesus is important and serves to carry Me toward the completion of your missions on earth. But one must begin. Even if you are taking small steps, there is advancement, is this not true?"

It is true, of course, Lord.

"So you see, even small steps are positive. If you fail to give Me every problem, every concern, every decision, but say, you give Me 10 out of 30, and the next day 15 out of 30, and so over time, My child you will grow accustomed to doing so in all things. It will become second nature, as you say, and to do otherwise would seem strange. What I am saying is, begin. If you decide, "Jesus this is just too hard. I can't do it." You would be correct if you were trying to do so on your own. However, if you ask Me to help you and you begin, every time you remember to call on Me, to give this decision, that problem, that choice to Me, is a step in the right direction. (The right direction being My will, of course) Once one begins this process of giving everything over to Me, the real learning begins. We will work on lessons of trust, faith, hope, love, charity towards one's neighbor, true charity, for your actions will be done within My will for you and for the others. Oh, My children, what new horizons of faith I will open to those who begin truly walking with Me, arm and arm throughout each moment of the day. Such growth in holiness will be the result, because your soul, your heart, your will, your beautiful minds will be united with Your God, the Creator and Lord of all. The way to holiness can only be accomplished by this union, for I am all holiness. There is no holiness apart from Me. The more united to My holiness you become, the more I flow through you. Do you see, My child how important this work of uniting to My will is? One could say it is the most important work of all for everything else flows from this unity. This is why I gave you Myself in the Holy Eucharist, to be united with you. You must open your heart to Me in every moment to nourish this unity with Me. It must be an every moment of every day occurrence to become completely united to My Divine Will. My children, think of your world with many, many multitudes living united to My Divine Will. Do you think it will be a world destined for destruction if My children lived in this way? Of course you know the answer to this question. It would not be. It would not be an age of disobedience, but an age of obedience. Obedience to Your God, to My statutes, to My law, to My love. It would be a completely different reality than the one you are living now. So, begin My Children of the Renewal. Begin this new way of living out each and every day by bringing everything as it occurs to Me. Ask for My direction. Ask for My peace. Ask Me for clarity of thought. Ask Me what My Sacred Heart wills in each situation. Then, carry out the task, the decision, the choice, following My direction, the way of love and begin the renewal in your heart first. Little by little you will be renewed and in this way My Holy Spirit can renew the face of the earth. My children, even if others do not begin living in this way, even if the world self-destructs (which would occur if I allowed it, which I will not!) What would you lose by being in unity with My Divine Will? That's right, nothing to lose but everything to gain. Therefore, begin at once and do not put off until tomorrow what can begin today for every step forward in the spiritual life is progress Just begin, My children and I will see to the rest."

Jesus, my sister is discouraged about the property. Do you have anything to say to her, Jesus?

"Yes, My little one. I know of my daughter's disappointment and I feel her sadness over this. I ask that she continue to hope. Hope in Me and trust in Me and My plan, for it is perfect. I say this meaning that My plan for her family is perfect and I can be trusted to provide the best location that will provide for all of their needs. Tell her to ask Me, her Jesus for the gift of the right property for her family. When I give My children gifts, and I am longing to do so, I give perfectly. I know exactly what their family needs both now and in the future. My children do not know what they will need specifically in the future, for only I know the future and what it holds specifically for each and every person. I want what is best for each one of My children. (name withheld), My child, know that I Your Jesus care for each and every need you have now and will ever have in the future. I know exactly where you are to move and I have what is best for you and for your husband. I ask you to continue to pray. Pray for My will to be done and for your husband to be open to My will and to lead your family accordingly. I am directing the events in your life. I am directing your husband. I ask you to give Me your complete and total trust, so that all can be accomplished with haste. I await your trust in Me. I await your peace about all that is occurring around you. You have only to ask Me for My peace, the trust you need and to ask that your will be formed around and in union with My will. I have every good thing in My heart and in My will for you. Be patient with Your Jesus and give Me your “yes”, My daughter. I love you and I want to lavish My graces and My gifts upon you. I wait only for your “yes” and for your trust, My sweet one. I love you and I hold you in the palm of My hand. Lift your head, now. Lift your eyes to Heaven. Focus on Your Jesus. All will be well. I kiss you. I embrace you. I steady you. You are My darling daughter and I love you. Trust in Me as I trust in you. You are precious in My sight.”

Thank You, Jesus. Oh how much You love us, Jesus. Thank You for these beautiful words of encouragement for my sister.

“You are welcome, My daughter. I love you and I love your entire family. Your family is one of faith and love and has been for generations. Your family is precious to me and to My Father. There are many saints in your family. Ask them to intercede for you for they are waiting at your beck and call, so to speak to go to work sending graces from Heaven and interceding at the foot of My Father’s throne for all of your needs.”

Thank You, Jesus for the many gifts and the support You provide for us as we go about Your work on earth. You are so very good to us and consider our every need. Thank You, Lord. I love You. I adore You. I praise You.

“My child, you are wondering about the request (name withheld) made of you, are you not?”

Yes, Lord, I am.

“Do not be concerned, for I have My reasons for her to ask you this. When you speak with her this evening, it will become more clear. Give this to Me and I will guide you. I am asking that you connect her with (name withheld). She does not know that he doesn’t live at (place withheld), only that there is a connection with (place withheld) and that he is from there. Ask her what it was that I said to her and you will understand. I use My children to help one another versus giving them every single answer. In this way, I allow My children to help one another in the missions I give them. It is My will for all to participate with assistance that each is able to provide within their sphere of life.”

Ok, Jesus. Thank You for Your direction. Lord, (name withheld) just informed me of his wife’s surgery on Friday. Please be with her, heal her and help her to return to her home soon. God, bless them for their loving witness of 65 years of marriage. How beautiful.

“Yes, My child. Their witness of love has made and continues to make a big impact in the world.”

Lord, please protect us as we travel in a couple of weeks. Help (name withheld) to enjoy and not fear the plane ride. Please bless the community as we spend this important time together. Help us to learn, share, and grow in love and unity under Our Lady's mantle. Please give us a spirit of humility, openness, love, and harmony with You, one another, and with Your will. Lord, bring out every important lesson and direction You want us to have for this time. Help us always to remain in Your Divine Will. Please bring every plan of Yours to fruition and keep us from being an obstacle to Your plan and to Your will for our lives. Thank You, Jesus for providing this opportunity to pray, learn, and share with our newly formed community. Give us Your wisdom, Jesus, Your peace, Your love, Your trust, so that we are moving in lockstep with You, Lord. Praise You for allowing us to be members of Your Mother's community. We are grateful for such an immense blessing and though we do not fully comprehend the importance, we trust that this is important and we humbly thank You that You invite us to participate in whatever way You will in this mission, Lord. Thank You, Jesus.

"My daughter, I am grateful to you and your husband for your 'yes' especially when it involves so much sacrifice on your part and that of your family. Because of your 'yes' you may rest assured that I, Your Jesus will take special care of those you leave behind in (places withheld). I will care for them with special attention and Divine Protection. Trust in Me, for I am worthy of your trust and will not disappoint."

Yes, Jesus, my Lord, and my God. My all! I trust You and I love You Lord. Is there anything more You wish to say to Me?

"Yes, My child. There is much work to do, but all work is fruitless without prayer. Thank you for your family prayer time. I invite you to continue this time together with Me and with My Mother and St. Joseph. You see, My child, though you are unaware, We are physically present with you each evening as you pray. I encourage and invite you to add another decade of the rosary prayed with (name withheld) present. He is ready for this now. Do not become impatient with him when he does not want to pray in the way an adult would, for many graces are available just by the fact that one so young is there. Use this as a time for him to rest in the safety and security of his family. If he is lying on the couch with his head on your lap while you pray, that is enough. All of Heaven is delighted when parents and or grandparents pray with their little ones. And you see, My daughter even though it may appear he isn't praying with you, I see his little, pure heart and know otherwise. His mind is lifted to Me when he doesn't say the words, and this is prayer. I am at work in his soul and My Mother takes delight in showering graces upon all of you and especially upon her little one. Even if he is playing at your feet while you are both praying, he is saying in his own way, "I am here for My Jesus and for the Blessed Mother." Playing in such a way is also a form of prayer. Do not put your expectations, though well intentioned, upon the heart and mind of a child, for they are far too young to behave as an adult and I am in no hurry for them to be adults. In due time, as he grows, he will begin to focus more and more on the prayers and will learn the meditations on the mysteries. What is most important is that he witnesses both of you praying, that he sees your love of prayer, that you pray even when you are too tired to pray and that this is a time of acceptance and love. I am not saying it is okay to be disruptive. If he needs correction, do so lovingly, but firmly. What I am saying is that you continue to pray and be open to what he needs to do in the meantime when he is still very young and his formation is vital. Do all things in love, do all things with patience and sincerity for his good. Do not be concerned with distractions from children or think that I cannot overlook them, for I not only do not mind, but the so called distractions of a child at play, in the midst of beautiful family prayer, delights My Mother, St. Joseph, and all of Heaven. One day, he will be a grown man and you will remember with fondness the times he played or sat with you as a child while you and your husband prayed. It is to be commended for his mere presence. Do not discourage him in this or cause him to feel ashamed or he will lose his longing for prayer. This is a lesson for all future children I send you. Also for each person is very fragile, especially as a child and I need you and your husband to learn to foster a love for prayer in My little ones' hearts, not to be disciplinarians in this. There are other important times for which children need to be disciplined or instructed about their misbehavior or unkind acts, but not praying like an adult, is not one of them. Many of My adult children do not know how to pray nor do they care to do so, for their parents did not set an example in prayer. I invite you and your husband to be an example of loving, family, prayer, and in this way your prayers will change many hearts. I love you and I am telling you this to teach you not to correct or criticize you, for your prayer is beautiful and I enable many graces through your faithfulness to prayer. Continue to pray the rosary and the divine Mercy Chaplet each evening for the sake of lost souls and for My will to be done in the world. I love you, and I am counting on you to bring My love to all you meet, beginning with your family. I am very grateful for your prayers for your "yes" to Me."

Ok. Thank You, Jesus. We will be more patient and try not to be so demanding with (name withheld) during prayer time now that we understand how You see things, Jesus. Your perspective is so much more loving than ours, Jesus. I love You and I thank You. Lord, have You anything more to say to us?

"My daughter, thank My son for the work he has accomplished thus far in preparing your house for sale."

Oh, Jesus I am sorry I failed to thank You today for the roof. Thank You, Jesus for providing this for us.

"You are welcome, My child. You asked Me to make this possible and I did. I am pleased by your gratitude. You thanked Me last week for this and I am happy to have assisted. Ask me for anything needed and I will provide. It is time for you to convert more of your savings to My Mother's medals. Time is of the essence in this regard. Use some of your savings to pay off what you owe and put most of what remains toward My Mother's medals. There is not much more time and you will do well to heed My guidance."

Yes, Lord. Ok.

"My daughter, do not become anxious when the catastrophic event occurs that is drawing nigh. All will work according to My plan. Trust in Me regardless of how the events and circumstances appear. I will assist you in the sale of your home when the time comes. I know each event that will transpire and I am in control. (Private message omitted) All will come to fruition, only trust in Me and I will provide. I love you. Go in My peace, be love, be peace, be charity to all you meet. I bless you in My name, in My Father's name, and in the name of My Holy Spirit. "

Thank you, Jesus for Your words of life and your lessons of love!

"You are most welcome, My daughter, My little one. Rest in My Sacred Heart, where all is safe and all is secure. I love you. Go in My peace."

Thanks be to God!
